WHEN BUYERS COMPETE, POLICY OWNERS WIN!

Ronald purchased a $300,000 Universal Life policy back in 1999 to provide his wife with financial security. Unfortunately, after 20+ years, Ronald could no longer afford the premium payments as his healthcare costs were mounting. One day, while watching the evening news, Ronald saw a TV commercial from a direct buyer, called a life settlement provider, about selling a life insurance policy for cash. Ronald decided to call the direct buyer and after weeks of waiting, he was offered $10,000 for his $300,000 policy. Ronald said, "no way," and decided to investigate other alternatives. Ultimately, Ronald decided that a life settlement broker, who would contact multiple companies to maximize the purchase price, would be his best option. After extensive research, he chose Welcome Funds. Welcome Funds conducted a transparent auction securing a total 22 offers. In the end, Ronald received a check for $64,800, 548% more than the offer extended by the direct buyer!
